Response to above	The census 2021 saw a reduction overall in carers: In England and Wales combined, an estimated 5.0 million usual residents aged 5 years and over provided unpaid care in 2021 (9.0%), a statistically significant decrease from 11.4% in 2011. Potential contributing factors for this change could include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• coronavirus (COVID-19) guidance on reducing travel and limiting visits to people from other households</li> <li>• unpaid carers who previously shared caring responsibilities may have taken on all aspects of unpaid care because of rules on household mixing during the pandemic</li> <li>• there has been an increase in the percentage of people reporting very good health and a decrease in the percentage of people that were disabled in 2021 compared with 2011, which could have led to a reduction in the need for unpaid care</li> <li>• excess deaths were highest in the older population and peaked at the beginning of 2021, which could have led to a reduction in the need for unpaid care</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>changes in the question wording between 2011 and 2021 may have had an impact on the number of people who self-reported as unpaid carers</li> </ul> Carers UK said the following: Census 2021 data shows increase in substantial unpaid care in England and Wales   Carers UK We have seen a steady increase in referrals over past few years (with an exception in 2022-23, surprisingly), so the census trajectory does not fit in with demand and use of the service locally. We were also asked about the gender of those who are cared for. These figures are based on the information held in our Eclipse case management system so includes the cared for who have had contact with Adult Social Care. The figures held by Improving Lives Plymouth will be higher as the service reaches a broader cohort of carers and cared for. The figures show all those with a record in Eclipse versus those who have a carer. <table border="0" style="width: 100%; text-align: center;"> <thead> <tr> <th></th> <th>M</th> <th>F</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>All (3,657)</td> <td>1,641 (45%)</td> <td>2,016 (55%)</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Those with Carers (848)</td> <td>393 (46%)</td> <td>455 (54%)</td> </tr> </tbody> </table>				M	F	All (3,657)	1,641 (45%)	2,016 (55%)	Those with Carers (848)	393 (46%)	455 (54%)
