

Sexual and Reproductive Health Contract Award FINAL

Assessment ID: SEX918

Assessment Author: Gemma Scott

Assessment Initial Summary:

This project will directly award a new contract for Integrated Sexual and Reproductive Health services to the existing provider of services, University Hospitals Plymouth.

Plymouth City Council has a statutory responsibility to provide a number of sexual service and they must be commissioned from the ring fenced Public Health Grant. Sexual health is an important public health priority. Good sexual and reproductive health is an essential component of positive health and wellbeing. The consequences of poor sexual health, including sexually transmitted infections (STIs) and unplanned pregnancies can have a lasting impact on people's lives. STIs are communicable diseases and as such require effective clinical services and public health interventions to prevent onward transmission.

Assessment Final Summary:

This is a Procurement of an existing service and whilst there is no material impact associated with the current commissioning process, there may be opportunities to improve climate outcomes with relation to influencing any future environmental Policies and Net Zero Commitments
