Overview:	Policy: Enforcement of Enforcement of Smoke and Carbon Monoxide Alarm (England) Regulations 2015 This outlines the enforcement of the above regulations. These regulations require the landlords of privately rented housing to provide smoke alarms and carbon monoxide alarms and test them at the start of new tenancies. They further set down the detailed procedures which Plymouth, as a local housing authority has duties to carry out. Finally they specify that a (variable) penalty may be imposed for their breach. PCC is required to adopt and publish a policy stating how this is to be administered. The purpose of the regulations is to protect private rented tenants who: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ do not have smoke alarms in their homes or ▪ have a fixed combustion appliance, other than a gas cooker, but no carbon monoxide alarm. The policy has been reviewed following amendments by The Smoke and Carbon Monoxide Alarm (Amendment) Regulations 2022. These amendments strengthen the current legislation requiring the landlord to repair/replace defective smoke detection as soon as reasonably practicable following a report that they are defective. It also requires carbon monoxide detectors in more instances.
