OFFICIAL

Good afternoon

As I have stated before I strongly object to increased opening hours of The Sir Joshua Reynolds Pub.

Already my residents in Ridgeway suffer at weekends from rowdy noise from licenced premises. They leave pubs , vomit in shop doorways or outside flats in Barncott and Highbridge. There has been broken glass found in car parks in Ridgeway and associated flats. People having sex outside bedroom windows, shouting screaming and fighting. There are no police on regular duty in Ridgeway after 10pm when PCSO's go home and our neighbourhood team get pulled into Plymouth City Centre and the night time economy. This all happens now so increasing drinking time will only compound issues that my elderly residents suffer now.

Why can't we consider elderly residents? Don't they deserve consideration and why should they suffer because they live in warden controlled flats in their twilight years?

This could also set a precedence for other licensed premises to apply for extensions until 1.30am turning Ridgeway into a full blown night time economy without considering elderly residents and businesses.

Its also worth pointing out that there are no taxi's in Plympton after midnight as they all migrate to Plymouth where the money is. This will encourage people to hang around in streets and be a nuisance to those living there and making them fearful.

Please accept my apologies as I will be on holiday for this hearing time and after waiting and working for 6 years without a break I am putting myself first for a change.

Kind regards

Terri
